Lulune Parcourt

to Anne,

RESERVED

Well, its another year and were survived again. Been really great having you in Home Ec. I think Dimick needs a vacation. We really had some good times this year. In "some" trouble and out of it to.

Been really ~~good~~ nice knowing you these past years and I hope we can remain good friends for a long time.

Have fun this summer and take it easy with Jim. Good luck with him too + take care of that one bet Jim + I made, in chicken!!.

~~could write more, but theres no room. Stay like you are + good luck next year.~~ Friends Always - Becky

to Anne

Reserved for Jim

I has been very interesting knowing you this year. Take it easy this summer, cause I know I will. Luane for me thing when I was falling asleep in English you and Timi fighting woke me up. Maybe we can get in a more lively class together next year.

A pal

Jim

Be Anne,
I appreciated your company in the English class, your friendship and everything. I just have to say that I hope to see you someday.
Good luck next year and have fun this summer!

Love

a meaningful year

- combines joy and sorrow
  - involves achievement
  - develops friendship
  - requires participation
- we assembled our LACEDAEION with the goal of recording school activities and events as comprehensively as possible. By using these four words, we were able to express four important phases of school life.

The use of pictures, copy, and outlines enabled us to relate the story of Superior Senior High School, 1969-1970.

Sw Anne,
It was fun having you in homeroom and English. You must have understood the stories read good to get up a good discussion in class. I expect see you this summer and next year. There's always something to discuss!
I miss you.

combines joy and sorrow

Your joy is your sorrow unmasked. And the selfsame well from which your laughter rises was oftentimes filled with your tears. And how else can it be? The deeper that sorrow carves into your being, the more joy you can contain . . . When you are joyous, look deep into your heart and you shall find it is only that which has given you sorrow that is giving you joy. When you are sorrowful look again in your heart, and you shall see that in truth you are weeping for that which has been your delight.

KAHLIL GIBRAN

Luan,

Well I found a place that wasn't reserved. It's been nice having you in some classes and I hope to see you in some next year.
Best of luck in the future years.

friends also

Vicky, Micha

involves achievement

You work that you may keep pace with the earth and the soul of the earth. For to be idle is to become a stranger unto the seasons, and to step out of life's procession, that marches in majesty and proud submission towards the infinite . . . Always you have been told that work is a curse and labor a misfortune. But I say to you that when you work you fulfil a part of earth's furthest dream, assigned to you when that dream was born . . . And in keeping yourself with labor you are in truth loving life . . .

develops friendship

Your friend is your needs answered . . . For you come to him with your hunger, and you seek him for peace
And when he is silent your heart ceases not to listen to his heart; For without words, in friendship, all thoughts, all desires, all expectations are born and shared, with joy that is unclaimed . . . Let there be no purpose in friendship save the deepening of the spirit

requires participation

You give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give . . . There are those who give little of the much which they have and they give it for recognition and their hidden desire makes the giving unwholesome. And there are those who have little and give it all . . . those who give with joy . . . and those who give and know not the pain of giving . . . Through the hands of such as these good sparks and fire are beamed their eyes He smiles upon the earth.

A black and white photograph of a person in a military uniform, possibly a pilot, standing next to a vehicle. The person is wearing a flight suit and a helmet. The vehicle has a sign that reads "USKIE". The image is grainy and has a high-contrast, almost stencil-like appearance.

seniors

outgrow sshs

Every year, seniors look back and remember all the things which made their high school years the happy (and troubled) times that they were. This year's seniors are no different. They remember their sophomore party, their junior prom, and their senior party. Ordering rings, announcements, caps and gowns, and grad pictures come to mind also.

Of course, no senior will ever forget the hours of studying spent for each class or their indecision about choosing a college or career.

Time spent at SSHS will long live in the minds of the 1970 graduates. Only time and new experiences will erase these memories.

Seniors Jim Allen and Dave Christianson recognize good reading when they see it.

unite for greatness

The junior class was well represented this year. Having capable, dependable, and reliable leaders made our class more unified. That was a big job because of the increase in the number of students. They planned such activities as class parties, a sleigh ride, and a very successful prom. The class officers were as follows: Jim Stevens, president, Roberta Sutherland, vice-president, Pat Girzi, secretary and Cindy Krenz, treasurer.

make new friends

Besides the bewilderment of new surroundings, sophomores also had the confusion of a split shift to contend with, which made their introduction to high school life even more bewildering. Following the first weeks of school, they settled down to regular school life: building floats, making posters, electing officers and joining organizations.

Being ambitious and full of life, these sophomores are looking forward to their next two years of high school with great anticipation.

DR. KENNETH RIPPLE
SUPERINTENDENT

MR. MICHAEL VERICH
ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

superintendents, board of education supervise, improve superior's educational system

Dr. Kenneth Ripple, superintendent of schools, is responsible for the supervision and improvement of Superior's educational system. By this authority, Dr. Ripple declared the week of October 20-24, 1969, as "Rest the Textbook Week." "This week's activities," said Dr. Ripple, "shall serve as an experiment to determine whether learning can take place in a classroom without textbooks and to what extent."

Because of the size of the school system, the position of superintendent of schools has required an efficient and hard-working administrator to establish a sound educational system.

Mr. Michael Verich, assistant superintendent in the Department of Instruction, has a schedule which occupies much of his time. Besides taking over during the superintendent's absence, one of his primary duties is to advise on curriculum instruction. Mr. Verich is a frequent visitor to Superior Senior.

Board of Education members: STANLEY Eugene Lundberg, Robert Armour, L. Roy Maresch, STAFFED Carl Anderson, Robert Olson, and president Miss Selma Swanstrom.

"Our school will always be open to those who are anxious to learn; past performances and accomplishments are significant only to bring about a better understanding of you, the student. I hope that you will grow both physically and mentally with your tenure at Superior Senior High School and that finally we can reflect on your accomplishments together, satisfied that yours was a job well done.

Finally, may you sense that your high school is a better school and you a better citizen because you were a student here.

Robert Gradin
Assistant Principal

With the increase of over 300 students from Cathedral, Mr. Gradin had a big job organizing programs for 2039 students. Many hours were spent trying to get a suitable program for each student. Mr. Gradin is also responsible for textbook inventory and ordering textbooks. Aside from this, he chips with other problems that arise in this school.

Mr. Paquette, in his second year as assistant principal, deals with the disciplinary area. He also takes charge of attendance for the boys. Mr. Paquette, a former football coach, attends most sporting events.

Alice Mitchell
Director of Guidance

"Guidance is inherent in every part of the school that is concerned with assisting the pupil to make choices, adjustments, and interpretations. Conditions of modern life and changing school schedules indicate the increasing necessity for organized counseling for vocational planning, for making academic decisions, and for solving personal problems. An effort is being made to provide an opportunity for all to receive assistance

As always, the work is not only interesting, but it is a very rewarding experience to work with youth."

counselors assist students in many ways

Mr. Lund began his counseling career when this year's seniors entered S.S.H.S. Helping the student develop to his fullest potential is one of Mr. Lund's prime goals. He finds his job interesting because of the people he meets and the challenges he faces. In his spare time he relaxes by hunting, fishing and doing carpentry work.

Mr. Pollock feels his chief duties as guidance counselor are "assisting students in any questions they may have; assisting students in any way we can." He asserts that the most interesting aspect of his job is "talking with the kids. I find satisfaction in any help I can give." He finds that playing even a small part in student life is rewarding to him. He enjoys hunting and fishing in his spare time.

"My main concern is the welfare of the student, both educationally and socially. Our greatest achievement can be to have everyone become all he is capable of being," stated Mr. Rogina about the guidance program. He claims his job is interesting because each day is not routine. "Each day brings new problems, new questions, new answers." In his spare time he enjoys golfing, fishing and "building things."

Career opportunities are abundant as Mr. Pollock points out to a senior.

foreign languages

generate enthusiasm

The Foreign Language Department was again increased with the addition of a new class, French IV, and a new teacher, Mrs. Susan Olson, who taught French and Spanish. In the French IV class, more emphasis was placed on dialogue, plays and skits. Students wrote and acted these presentations almost entirely on their own.

The outstanding feature of this department was the enthusiasm all four language clubs had in participating in the various school activities. One is always sure to find at least three, if not all four clubs in busy activity throughout the year.

Students concentrate and respond during a class session in the foreign language laboratory

math

fundamental concepts taught

Discovering talent, stimulating interest, improving techniques and preparing for further schooling are the goals of mathematics students. Through a well-balanced mathematical program, teachers aim to fulfill the needs of mathematical students who graduate from S.S.H.S., regardless of which endeavor students later choose

Four different types of math courses are available to students: algebra, geometry, Math A and Math B. Junior and senior Math A and B students participated in an annual statewide math contest. Students wishing to do so took part in the Wisconsin Mathematical Talent Search, which consists of a sequence of math exams taken throughout the year. During "Rest the Textbook Week" some instructors did individual work with students, such as teaching them to use a slide rule

science

classes hear guest speakers

The three science courses aim to give science students enough background information necessary for those who pursue the college level sciences. For students not furthering their schooling, teachers hope to teach students enough science necessary for health and life in general.

Some changes were evident this year in the courses. The biology program included a new class in life science, which emphasizes practical biology. The physics classes made use of Harvard Project Physics materials. They also visited the U M D. Planetarium, and both chemistry and physics classes heard guest speakers throughout the year.

Kim Thompson, Glenn Viggiano, and Jack Ursin (partially hidden) decide on the pressure and temperature constants for a physics experiment

art

students express themselves

This year's art students were kept busy by preparing for various events. They displayed their artwork throughout the school to coincide with the seasons. They also decorated for school activities such as the Christmas concert, the prom, baccalaureate, commencement and other special events. The commercial art classes took care of making posters for the school's dramatics department.

Art students competed at an advanced level. They participated in an S.S.U. art festival and in a school festival held each spring. Mr. Orlandi's classes showed their creativity in preparing a "happening," held in the fall.

Tony Kabalak uses the pottery wheel to create his project

Ken Elm applies finishing touches to a work of abstract art

Rose Mabry and Ruth Nelson design a harp as part of the decorations for the Christmas Concert

Debbie H. E. and others practice to play

music

organizations work together

The music department boasted of a larger enrollment this year. With more students involved, more activities were possible. Interested band students participated in a summer band program. The Marching "100" and the Spartan bands performed at football and basketball games. An innovation occurred when members of the choir and orchestra combined with the dramatics department in presenting a musical this February. Each music group competed in a state-wide music contest held at W S U annually.

Teaching the students to perform good music is a goal of all music teachers. Through the music classes and private lessons, students gain insight and learn the pleasures of participating in a group consisting of other students with similar interests.

Marching 100" members practice music for future performances

Mr. Tene energetically directs the All Girl's Choir

home economics

emphasizes consumer education

This year the Home Economics classes concentrated on consumer education, family living, child care and development, and nutrition rather than just "cookin' and sewin' ". As an extra activity, some of the girls entered the "Make It With Wool" contest.

The Home Arts classes stressed consumer buying of household furnishings such as carpets, draperies and flatware. Time is devoted to dealing with table settings, furniture styles, and home lighting. During the last quarter, each student creates a home which combines all of her talents. In this way, the student becomes aware of art within each part of the home and learns to choose wisely in planning an artistic home.

industrial arts

learn skills for future

Various skills are taught in all of the industrial arts classes. The basics of tools and machines are taught in Wood Shop I while cabinet building and mass production are the main topics taught in Wood Shop II. In the Power Mechanics and Small Engine Repair classes, students studied the history of power along with hydraulics and pneumatics. Each student had an individual project and elementary adjusting of automobile engines was taught. Concentrating on building projects the Electronics classes learned a great deal about electronics in theory and in practical use.

social studies

revisions improve program

The Social Studies Department of S.S.H.S. has been involved in the areas of curriculum revision and modification. The sophomore world affairs course has been involved with current world problems, while the junior American history classes have been revised to relate to the great issues of our history. The senior Problems of Democracy course has been involved with the problems that we, as a nation, face.

The presentation of problem-solving techniques was stressed in all three areas this year. It is felt that such teaching innovations will make the courses more meaningful to the students and more relevant to the times.

Adding machines are one of the many devices which office clerical students must learn to operate

business education

encourage practical skills

Business education teachers offered classes and practice in those areas which they felt gave the student the best preparation for the business world. Stress was placed on basic office skills and office procedures, including filing, mimeographing, stenciling and dictation.

Field trips, guest speakers and outside work experiences, such as typing and running off tests and announcements for teachers and coaches, were used to enrich the school program.

Long hours of typing help typing students

physical education stresses coordination

Students have been striving to improve coordination in physical education classes. They started off the year with physical fitness tests, which consisted of sit-ups, arm hang, 50 yard dash, broad jump, shuttle-run, softball throw and the 600-yard walk-run.

Much stress this year in Girls' Phy. Ed. was placed on physical fitness. Exercising to records helped to develop muscles and endurance.

Both the boys and the girls participated in volleyball, swimming, working in the apparatus room and various outdoor activities.

exceptional students driver's ed.

learn new skills

Practical ability was the emphasis placed on the exceptional students at S.S.H.S. this year. They were instructed in the basic courses which would enable them to hold jobs, found for them by their teacher because of the work-study program for these classes. These students are instructed to lead normal lives as productive and self-sufficient citizens of our society.

Driver education students have an opportunity to learn and practice new skills on the driving range. One instructor is able to handle as many as 20 students at one time on this range. By speaking into a walkie-talkie, teachers instruct students, who hear the instructions from their car radios. The range requires much alertness and concentrated effort. Tires are used as markers for various exercises. Any tires knocked over or moved must be returned to the original position by the student.

Not only does the teacher teach these exceptional students, but he also teaches them to be good citizens.

Driver Education helps young adults develop good driving skills.

homecoming

spirit unites school

The 1969 Homecoming was one of the most successful endeavors of the Student Council this year. The activities started on Monday with the planning and building of floats. Because of "Rest the Textbook Week," students were able to spend more time working on their floats and marching units.

Friday, the six queen candidates were introduced to the school at the pep assembly. After several choruses of the school song, some competition cheers and a pep talk by Nancy Hutchinson, president of the Pep Club, students were dismissed to watch the parade.

At ceremonies before the game, Nina Staupe was named the 1969 Homecoming Queen. The winning floats and marching units were also announced. Although we lost the game, which was against St. Cloud Cathedral, another victory was present because the "Spartan Spirit" was out in full force and truly unified the school.

The dance Saturday night climaxed the week of busy activity.

snow times

snow time is fun time

Snow time is fun time, and the time for enjoying the white fluffy matter which covers the ground at this time of year.

Broomball games were held throughout the season between boys of all classes, at different skating rinks in the city.

Ski trips were taken to surrounding resorts, where many weekends were spent speeding down the snow-covered slopes.

Snowmobiling, skating and sliding, and just plain romping in the snow were also at the top of the fun time list last season. Leisure time was spent skiing, for those skilled in the sport, and for those not skilled in a winter sport, sliding and cavorting through and over snow banks provided fog-filled afternoons for SSHS students.

junior-senior prom

queen kathy and king russ reign over "moonlight and roses"

A successful prom was hosted by the junior class on Saturday, May 3, 1969. The link area, cafeterias and gym were appropriately transformed by the art classes to carry out the theme "Moonlight and Roses." Sophomore girls played an important role by serving refreshments and checking coats. Music was provided by the Dave Mattson Sextet.

Promptly at 9:30, ceremonies prior to the Grand March began in the link. Jane Olson, mistress of ceremonies, introduced the prom court and announced the prom king and queen. The march began in the link and progressed to the gym, where the couples continued in formation to the Grand Finale.

Tickets were sold in advance of the prom by the junior class. Formal pictures were taken of those couples who wanted them.

'west side story' amazes public

Members of the Dramatics Club, along with other students, were kept busy planning and performing various plays throughout the year. In the fall, students performed the Childrens' Plays at elementary schools in the area. "Of Poems, Youth and Spring" was performed for one-act play competition in Eau Claire and received a 'B' rating.

In February, "West Side Story" was presented with the leads played by Steve Huhta and Kathy Mathews. Approximately 200 students participated in this production, which drew standing-room-only crowds. Press reviews were excellent.

christmas dance 'silver bells' chosen theme

Once again the magical spirit of Christmas transformed the cafeteria and link area into an enchanted ballroom. Dressed in velvet, satin, and lace, girls danced with their chosen men around decorations of silver bells, evergreens, and mistletoe. Nearly 300 couples danced to the music of the Shades of Blue. Held December 23, the dance provided a beautiful beginning to a long-awaited vacation.

pep club

shows who's got the spirit

Those who were at SSHS last year noticed a big change this year; signs supporting the school's many sports were hung, taped, glued and just plain stuck in any open space. Who was behind all this? The Pep Club, naturally.

Through many organizational meetings, the Pep Club finally emerged as a spirited, school-supporting group of students. Armed with paints, paper, buttons, shakers and loud voices, the club showed our opponents "Who's got the spirit."

The only fund-raising activity of the club was selling "Spartan" buttons during the fall. According to Nancy Hutchinson, president, buttons sold numbered well over 1000.

Besides selling buttons, the Pep Club's other activities included chartering buses for out-of-town games.

gain poise through participation

The forensics team at SSHS spent much of their time preparing for the annual forensics meet held in March. This year the sub-district meet was held at Northwestern. Those receiving 'A' ratings advanced to the district meet at WSU in Superior. Persons receiving 'A' ratings here were eligible for state competition in Madison. Categories included were memorized declamation, interpretive reading of prose, interpretive reading of poetry, four-minute speech, public address, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, and significant speech. In the play acting competition, Superior students performed "Antigone."

PLANNING A CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

fha hold banquet

The FHA (Future Homemakers of America) Club began its second year as an organization. Members put much time and planning into their annual Christmas bazaar. The club held bake sales and worked on various service projects throughout the year. One of their projects was making items for resthomes. Last March the club held a mother-daughter banquet and style show. The Club year concluded with an annual trip.

Elected last fall were president, Diane Grimsrud; vice president, Cindy Krenz; secretary, Bonnie Blume; treasurer, Kathy Olson and publicity, Caryn Reick and Debbie Blackmon.

The National Honor Society was more active this year than it has been during the past two years. Meetings were held during school hours and officers were elected at the first one. They included, Doug Score, president; Emalyn Tucker, vice-president; and Cheryl Bergsgaard, secretary-treasurer. One project the club concentrated on was formulating a new method of changing the grade point system. Another project was working in conjunction with the Social Science Society in setting up a student center. Senior members receive the traditional gold tassel upon graduating.

give up study-halls

Interested boys volunteered their study halls to be audio-visual assistants. Their job consisted of checking equipment in and out of the room, making film and tape repairs and assisting teachers in running the equipment. The boys are taught their duties by Mr. Parish.

This year 45 girls in Office Help were willing to give up their study hours to work in various offices, taking some of the work load off the shoulders of the counselors, deans, secretaries and treasurer. Because of the responsibilities taken on by these girls, the people in the offices were able to devote themselves more completely to their duties, thus benefitting the school as a whole.

They followed up this event with a caramel apple sale which proved to be a tremendous success. The annual Christmas party was held and presents were exchanged by willing members. Guest speakers were invited to various parties held throughout the remainder of the year.

student council makes changes

This year the council underwent a complete change. Instead of having one representative from each homeroom, ten members were elected from each individual class. The council consisted of thirty class members, four officers, and the three class presidents.

The council sponsored many different events to keep the student life of Superior Senior High on the go. Among those sponsored were Homecoming, the Christmas Dance, and Snow Week.

As for a major change, the Constitution of the Superior Senior High Student Council had to be rewritten to make it lawful for the classes to elect ten members at large.

One of the Latin Club's first projects this year was to create great mythological skits, complete with props and costumes for the Latin classes. They also initiated newcomers to the club last fall. The Latin Club celebrated Christmas with a party. Club members taking Latin II worked on written projects concerning Roman culture. Various sales were organized to provide money for the club. In the spring, the club took a trip to Minneapolis to view a play and also held a Roman banquet, featuring Roman food. "Crusaders on the Run" was the theme of the Spanish Club marching unit for the Homecoming parade. The entry featured the "Frito Bandito," who chased students disguised as crusaders. Spanish Club members took charge of decorating the classroom for Christmas. In celebration of Christmas, members constructed pinatas filled with goodies, which were broken at their Christmas party. Another party was held at which Spanish foods were prepared and eaten. Various money-making projects helped to finance this organization.

Carol Steen presided at the meetings which were held at least once a month. Vice-president of the club is Caryn Rieck, secretary is Carla Ness and treasurer is Karen Nummi. The club's advisor is Mrs. Marge Rutan.

hold science fair, take field trips

The METS (Matter, Energy, Time and Space) Club provides an opportunity for science-minded students to share their interests. No requirements are necessary in order to join this club.

Officers were elected last fall. They included president Mike Paquette; vice-president, Nancy Lindberg; secretary Lynn Moran; and treasurer, Jill Seguin.

One of the mets' projects as a group was to prepare the annual science fair, which was bigger and better than that of previous years. Members took field trips to area points of interest throughout the year. They also viewed films. In May, a program entitled "The Atomic World" was presented to METS members.

social science society

get involved in government activities

One of the newest and most active organizations at SSHS is the Social Science Society. This club, advised by Mrs. Laura Bowden, was formed to involve students in the activities of the city and county governments, as well as those in school. Membership is open to any senior, junior, or sophomore student currently taking a social science course.

One of its services is the tutoring program. Qualified students volunteer to spend their studies and free hours helping other students who are having trouble with a certain subject. This program, called Student Center, makes reference and resource materials available as well as help from other students. Most of the Student Center activities take place in the cafeteria.

The sophomore mixed choir, under the direction of Mr. Ernest Teie, worked hard perfecting themselves for various concerts throughout the year. Besides the regular singing, the choir also learned about music in general and ways of combining male and female voices in harmony.

The sophomore girls' choir, also under the direction of Mr. Teie, practiced energetically to perform at concerts. They listened to records, discussed composers and learned to read music and sang. This choir is composed of about 35 girls.

This select group, chosen by Mr. Teie, consists of 85 members who are juniors and seniors. Besides performing at concerts, the choir also took a recruiting 'tour' to East and Central Junior Highs. The purpose of this 'tour' was to get students interested in singing when they come to Senior High. Tryouts were held in the spring to choose next year's members. Any interested students could try out.

The Spartan Singers, made up of 17 full-time Concert Choir members, perform separately at concerts and at various other events. Through hard work and many practices, the Spartan Singers, along with the Concert Choir, provided fine public performances.

The band took a very active part in Homecoming, playing at the pep assembly, in the parade and during half-time for the football game.

After the close of the marching season, the band turned its attention to concert music for such activities as the Christmas Concert and the Festival of the Arts, held in the spring.

members don formal attire

This year's orchestra, under the direction of Miss Shirley Wagner, performed at several concerts, accompanied the musical, "West Side Story" and competed in an annual contest. Two of the concerts, held in April and June, featured senior soloists. For the first time, the orchestra performed in several Wisconsin cities during a two-day tour. Another change made was in concert dress. Boys were requested to wear bow ties and white shirts with black suits or to wear Marching "100" band uniforms. Girls were required to wear black dresses.

In addition to the orchestra, interested students participated in various ensembles. The year was wound up with a picnic held at Lake Nebagamon.

The Pom-Pom squad consisted of 20 girls with 17 seniors and three juniors. Tryouts were held in May and four girls were chosen from Senior High and six from Cathedral. Cheryl Kempinsky was elected president with Nina Staape as secretary-treasurer.

The girls participated in most of the home football and basketball games during halftime and promoted school spirit throughout the season. They also marched in many parades during the year, their two largest being the annual Apple Festival and the Christmas City of the North Parade.

invades Canada

This year's Ski Club was the largest in the history of S.S.H.S., with over 150 members. Under the direction of Mr. Ronald Orlandi and Mr. Ray Mickolajak, the Ski Club took trips to Quadna Mt. in Minnesota, White Cap Mt., in Wisconsin, and Loch Lomond in Canada. The planning of these trips was supervised by Mr. Orlandi with the help of about 35 club members, including club officers: Rick Johnson, president; Kim Thompson, vice-president; Pat Girzi, secretary; Larry Schmid, treasurer

Each squad consisted of eight girls with two alternates. The girls held bake, doughnut, and shaker sales. The money was put into the travel fund for the bus trips on away games. Tryouts for "A" squad and hockey were held in May, while the B squad cheerleaders were selected in November.

Enthusiasm and spirit was provided by this year's lively and peppy cheerleaders. Because of their promotion at pep assemblies students were aroused and a big crowd turned out at the games. Not only did they set the spirit high for students, they also gave the team members that extra push they needed to strive for victory.

Senior High's football team had a very respectable season this year with a lot of spirit backing them up. Starting off the season the gridmen were defeated their first game against Eau Claire, but reviving themselves, they bounced five teams in a row setting the best record in three years. They left a game to St. Cloud and ended the season victoriously, 30-14 over Virginia.

Seven of the first 11 players were juniors this year. This promises a fine team next year with the undefeated Junior Varsity coming up to help out.

The coach again this year was Mr. Roesch with three new helpful assistants, Mr. Teslaw, Mr. Zankow and Mr. Tanski.

The spirit-packed Baby Spartans, coached by Mr. Michael Schueller and Mr. Charles Wright, were undoubtedly the best in the area this year. With a 5-0 record, they became the second undefeated Junior Varsity in the school's history.

The team pushed in 137 points while permitting only 26. The team showed magnificent form after missing two weeks of practice. They hope to continue their winning streak upon moving up to Varsity.

track

produces state champions

Last year's team was the first to have the complete benefit of a full-scale junior high track program. The team was an all-around squad with the field events having a possible edge.

The team started the year with an outstanding victory in the First Annual Packy Paquette Meet, which was named after the late S.S.H.S. athlete. At this meet, Superior was recognized as the finest track team in the area. Throughout the season, the individual competitors helped to compile a proud record.

Rick Murto added the crowning touch to an excellent season by taking first place in pole vaulting at the state meet.

This year's team overcame many difficulties in compiling a 13-0 record. Every swimming record was shattered at least once, as the swimmers proved the best in the school's history.

The team established itself as best in the region by taking the Spartan Relays for the second consecutive year. Dual competition was a breeze for the Spartans as no other team came closer than nine points. In dual competition, the team scored 793 points compared to 410 by the opponents.

In the sectional meet, the swimmers took a disappointing third place. However, more boys qualified this year for the state meet than any other year.

Taking a 14-5 record into the tournaments, the Spartans proved again that they are not a team to be overlooked. Coached by Ron Orlandi, the Spartan nine averaged 8 runs per game while holding their opponents to a pitiful 3. The Spartans averaged four homers.

As tournaments got underway, the Spartans overpowered Northwestern and South Shore by 12-9 and 19-3, thereby, putting the chains on district play. At regionals, the Spartans clipped Mellan 7-5. The path now paved to the sectionals, the Spartans routed Chetek 11-5 and Hayward 5-3. Moving finally into the state tournament, the Spartans ran up against tough play by being blanked by Menomonie 2-0.

During this time, Tinker lead through the district and regional tournaments with a hot .700 and Wickell batting a .330.

A difficult sport in many ways, golf has bent new eyes toward our five returning lettermen, Charles Place, Kim Thompson, Dennis Wedan, Mike Kaluza, and Douglas Lomborg, coached by Mr. Teie. These boys have improved vastly and proved to be a threat.

In the '69 season the team placed 3rd in the Regionals in Hayward with Charles Place taking Medalist honors by shooting a 79. He entered the Sectional Tournament at Cumberland, where he was a Medalist again with a 69. From there he entered the state tournament at Madison, June 6-7 and shot a fine 169.

The pack will be lead again by Kim Thompson and Charles Place to the ultimate goal of any sport, State Championship.

junior varsity

The explosive junior varsity hockey team turned in another fabulous year with a 12—1—1 record. The puckmen averaged 6 goals a game while allowing only 1

In its opening game, the Spartans were tied by Two Harbors, but then proceeded to win their next 9 games. Once in tournament play the team was undefeated. The team took the area trophy.

ski team

co-eds added

With only two returning skiers and adding several girls, Coach Ron Orlandi rounded out a virtually inexperienced ski team which proved to do a fine job in the final run of the season. The team, led by Bob Ross and Randy Skowland participated in several area meets gaining more experience as they went. The team ended the season with a hard fought 12th place

The players had good team spirit and determination this year, but this was not reflected in their record. It seems as though they had a little trouble with teamwork.

Surprisingly though, the team excelled in the tournaments as they did the year before.

Looking ahead to next season, Coach Craig Johnson has an optimistic outlook with a respectable Junior Varsity coming up and three varsity boys returning.

has successful season

Compiling a record of 10 wins and 4 losses, Superior's victory-minded Junior Varsity completed another successful season.

Surprisingly though, the Junior Varsity had five new starting players that combined into a smooth-working unit and outlasted the majority of their opponents.

Coach Steve Kirk built his team around a blazing fast break offense and one of the toughest defenses in the area. Though small in stature, the team could give any opponent a run for its money, and did.

determination and sportsmanship makes the team

The Baby Spartans displayed fine sportsmanship and great determination as they performed under the leadership of Coach Rod Dimich.

The sophomores showed great promise against Superior's biggest rival, Eau Claire. The Duluth teams weren't much of a match for this fine team. They're hoping they have just as good luck next year upon moving to Junior Varsity.

A meaningful year
combines joy and sorrow
involves achievement
develops friendship
requires participation

We assembled our LACEDAEMON with the goal of recording school activities and events as comprehensively as possible

By using these four words, we were able to express four important phases of school life. The use of pictures, copy, and cutlines enabled us to relate the story of Superior Senior High School, 1969-1970

The staff of the 1969-1970 Lacedaemon would like to express their sincere appreciation and gratitude to all those who were involved in the construction of this book

Our advertisers for their financial support,

Miss Judy Lindberg and Mr. Joseph Sitek for their guidance and unceasing patience,

Marilyn Schroeder for all her ability, time and effort,

The administration and faculty for their cooperation,

And the student body for being an inexhaustible source of picture material

This Lacedaemon is the achievement of a staff who has worked long and hard to attain the goal of capturing a school year in pictures that "tell it like it was". Through participation in all phases of yearbook work, members now know the joys and sorrows of working together toward a responsible goal. The hours spent constructing the Lacedaemon created not only the book but a friendship between staff members that will endure long after the close of the 69-70 school year

It has been a memorable year. We hope we have portrayed it as it was

Yet the timeless in you is aware of life's timelessness, and knows that yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream

Even while the earth sleeps we travel . . . Ready we are to go, and our eagerness with sails full set awaits the wind

We are the seeds of the tenacious plant, and it is in our ripeness and our fullness of heart that we are given to the wind and are scattered

Dudu.
Well my last year is almost gone.
It really feels nice to be done. Jim going to miss school next year. Yes, we will have to get together and double date more often.
I hope you take real good care of Jim because he is a great guy. If he tries to get smart with you do what I do to Don, smack him. Don may give me beatings Friday night but I give him broken bones Sunday night. These men today think they can get away with murder but we girls know better, don't we? Well, you don't want me to take up the whole page so I'll end this. Have a lot of fun this summer and next year. Good luck in the future. (with Jim)
